AUTONOMOUS SYSTEMS

Alaska Native Corporation | Small Disadvantaged Business

Autonomous computing is revolutionizing the way we connect, protect, and explore. Autonomous systems are covering more areas, providing more immediate actionable knowledge, and keeping our infrastructure more securely available.

Sugpiat Group applies the power of autonomous computing to communicate and collaborate across domains in real-time. Our innovative Land Access Monitoring and Protection System (LAMPS) is a self-contained autonomous system. Our LAMPS solution provides remote sensing, performs predictive analysis, and distributes actionable information via real-time alerts for rapid response by the user.

By providing real time situational awareness in remote or harsh environments, we are committed to driving safe innovation and smart integration of leading-edge technologies transforming autonomous systems.

We integrate available technologies into the enterprise while customizing autonomous systems to meet our customers' unique requirements.

Our expertise allows us to identify opportunities to integrate intelligent and flexible autonomous solutions to help make existing systems smarter, missions safer, and operations more efficient.
